These batteries are usually rechargeable (secondary) batteries and are typically the Traction batteries. These batteries are specifically designed for a high ampere-hour (or Kilowatt-hour) capacity. Electric vehicle batteries differ from starting, lighting and ignition (SLI) batteries as they are designed to go give power over sustained periods of time and are deep-cycle batteries

16. Battery Electric Vehicle (BEV) - A Battery Electric Vehicle (BEV), a pure electric vehicle, only electric vehicle, fully electric vehicle or all electric vehicle is a type of electric vehicle that exclusively uses chemical energy stored in rechargeable battery packs, with no secondary source of propulsion (e.g. hydrogen fuel cell, internal combustion engine, etc.) Battery Electric Vehicle derive all power from battery packs and thus have no internal combustion engine, or fuel tank
17. Battery Management System (BMS) - A Battery Management System (BMS) is an electronic system that manages EVB, such as by protecting the battery from operating outside its safe operating area, monitoring its state, calculating secondary data, reporting that data, controlling its environment, authenticating it and / or balancing it.
    The BMS also controls the charging and discharging, as well as recharging of the battery by redirecting the recovered energy (i.e., from regenerative braking) back into the EVB. Inverter, converter and the cooling systems also form part of the BMS.
    For the purposes of this Policy, it means the original BMS provided by the Manufacturer along with new purchase of the Vehicle without any modifications, or the original BMS that has been replaced by the original equipment manufacturer following some fortuitous event.
18. Electric Motor and Differential - Means the core component of the Battery Electric Vehicle and Hybrid Electric Vehicle that converts electrical energy into mechanical energy and uses electric power from the traction of the battery, turning the transmission and the wheels
19. Electric vehicle - An electric vehicle is a vehicle that uses one or more electric motors for propulsion. It can be powered by a collector system, with electricity from extravehicular sources, or it can be powered autonomously by a battery (sometimes charged by solar panels), or by converting fuel to electricity using fuel cells or a generator
20. Hybrid Electric Vehicle - A Hybrid electric vehicle is powered by an internal combustion engine and one or more electric motors, which uses energy stored in the batteries. A hybrid electric vehicle cannot be plugged in to charge the battery. Instead, the battery is charged through regenerative braking and by the internal combustion engine
21. State of Health (SOH) of the Traction Battery - Means the measurement of condition of the Traction Battery compared with that of the manufacturer's specification for the Traction Battery. It is generally expressed in percentage terms, ranging between 0% to 100%. 100% means that battery's condition is fully meeting the manufacturer's specifications. The typical factors considered in these calculations are (the list below is inclusive but not exhaustive):
    a. Internal Resistance or conductance
    b. Battery Capacity
    c. Voltage
    d. Self-discharge
    e. Age of the battery
